

ProPhorce™ AC 299

Elegantly balanced performance

Product Description

ProPhorce™ AC 299 is a feed preservative that provides highly available sodium to the diet in the form of free flowing, non-corrosive sodium formate. Sodium is an essential macro mineral and important tool to optimize the dietary electrolyte balance (dEB). Optimizing the dEB brings production benefits as enhanced live weight gain and reduced feed conversion ratio. The dEB is important to monitor during normal conditions but becomes critical during heat stress.

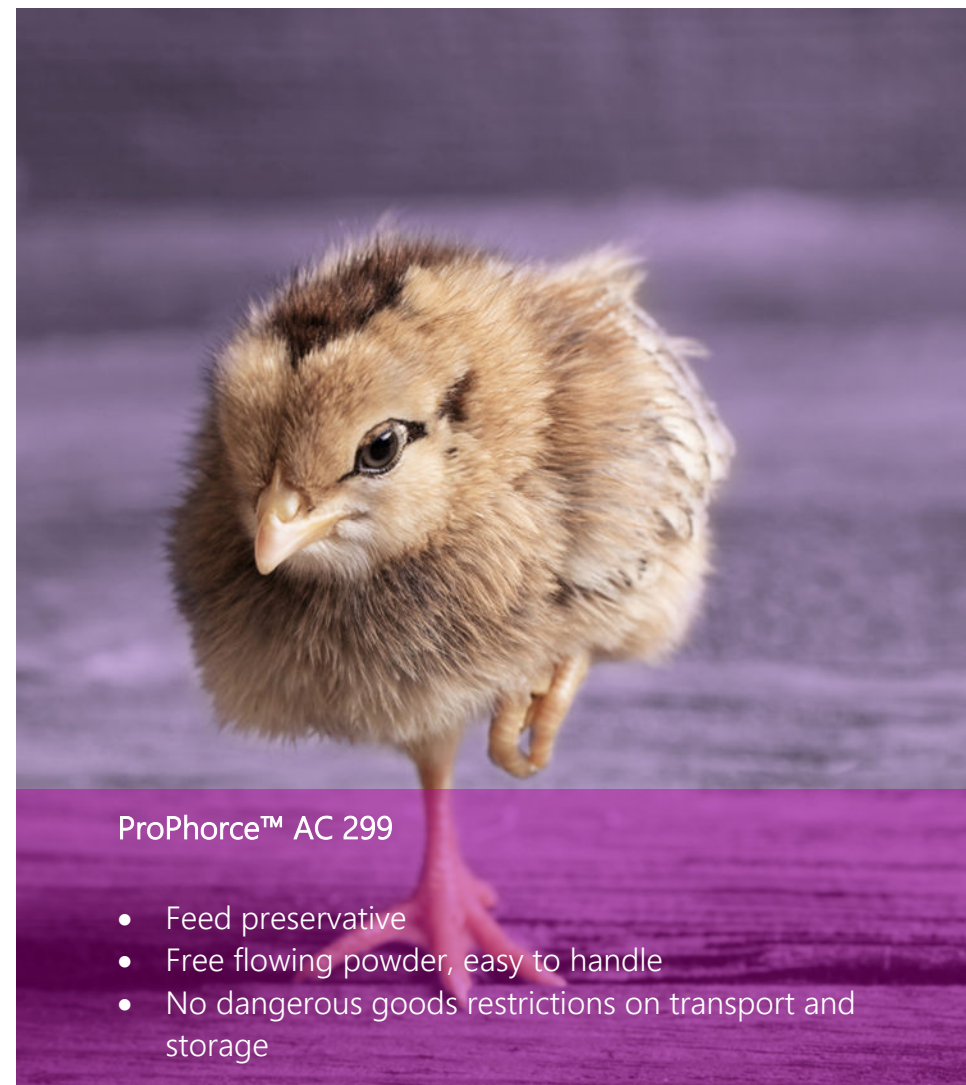

ProPhorce™ AC 299 does not increase the acid binding capacity of the feed and in an acidic environment the formate ions transform into formic acid and provide further benefits related to feed utilization.
